Suggested outline & tips for weddings

If you're not sure of what you want at your reception, I have a few ideas for an outline and tips. I have had great success with receptions that follow closely to this outline.

Tips:

1. Relax and have fun. It's your wedding after all. You should enjoy both yourself and those that are present to share this occasion with you. Don't worry if things don't go exactly as planned. They rarely do. You know what I'm talking about. The decorations are still going up and guests should start arriving in 20 min. The photographer takes longer than you wanted. Bride and Groom and/or wedding party arrive late at the venue. Catering is late. We've all been a part of or attended weddings where these things happen and in the end it all works out.
2. If possible have all pictures (or at least the really big important ones) done prior to guests arriving. This will help you and everyone else involved in your wedding be more at ease.
3. Book your DJ early and get all plans and outlines done no later than one month prior to your wedding. The wojohowitz dj co. is waiting to hear from you to make your special day one to remember. I control the music and atmosphere and will set a tone for your wedding that you and others will want to remember the rest of your lives. After all, that's my job.

The Event:

This is just a skeleton of how your wedding might be outlined. All weddings are different so if you have other ideas and needs we can make sure they happen the way you want it to. Whether or not you're doing all the traditional activities at your wedding, following my outline will keep the event fun for all. Best of all, you won't risk losing your interest or the interest of your guests.

On the next page you will find my typical outline for a wedding. This is just a suggestion, and can be added to or changed according to your wants.

General outline and time frame:

Using general times as placeholders, here is how your wedding might look.

- Start Guests arrive and greet Bride and Groom and others in the wedding party. This will last as long as you'd like I recommend 30 – 45 min tops. During this time the guests will enjoy hors d'oeuvres or whatever refreshment you might be serving. I will make announcements for remaining time to keep things moving.
- Or you might be having a sit-down dinner. In this case the wedding party will mingle with guest as they arrive. If dinner is being served buffet style I will excuse tables one at a time starting with the wedding party.
- 45 min in Receiving line ends. Bride and Groom mingle and get some food themselves if they have not already. I recommend you eat prior to the event.
- 1 hour in Toasts followed by Bride and Groom cutting the cake then mingling a little longer.
- 1 hr 20 min in Bride and Groom have first dance together.
- 1 hr 25 min in Immediately following the first dance will be any other special dance such as a Daddy Daughter Dance or Parents Dance. If there will be a special dance I recommend inviting all couples in the room on the dance floor near the end of this dance. This is a good way to get everyone involved. We'll follow this dance up with another slow song.
- 1hr 35 min in Time for the garter and bouquet toss. These two events are great for jumpstarting the faster paced dancing part of your wedding. If we hold these near the end, typically guests leave before it ever happens. And let's face it, if you're going to have cake a bouquet toss and garter toss, guess want to be there for these events.
- 1 hr 45 min in Dancing 'till you can't dance no more. At this point all the traditional events are done and you and your guests will be having a great time dancing and visiting to the tantalizing and grooving sounds of the wojohowitz dj co. until its time to go.
